

Steering Innovation and Productivity in Insurance with Intelligent Automation

Automation Technology for Secure, Faster and Self-Service Processes

Insurance companies are vigorously immersed with back-office forms as most of the documentation process is paper based. Insurers regularly handle an exceptionally high volume of business processes like claims-processing and underwriting as well as providing policy quotes manually which creates significant delay in time and also affects the customer satisfaction, business conversion and profitability.

Challenges

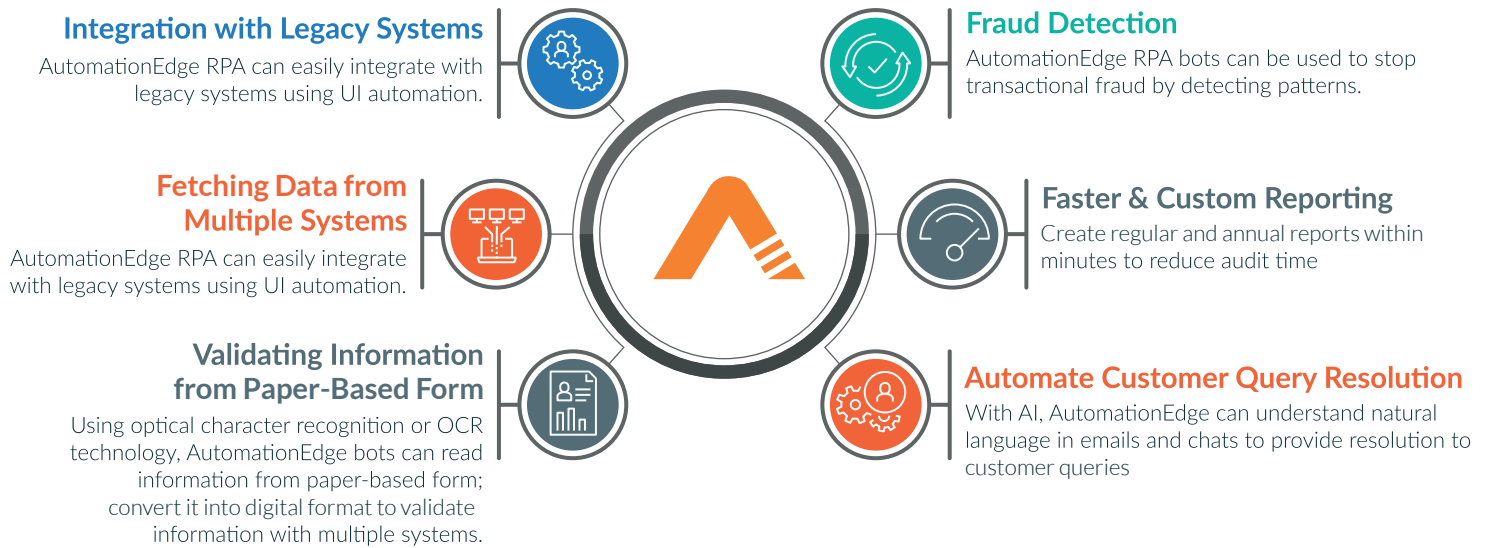

AutomationEdge RPA with AI capability can analyze large volumes of data and deal with exceptions and translate them into insights to take actions. AutomationEdge RPA can go beyond just cost reduction and efficiency by adding significant value to businesses with personalize and higher degree of self-service.
